

"Boys like system and order"

"THERE is one thing no boy, particularly an Australian boy, will stand and that is being messed about," the overseas secretary of the International Boys' Brigade (Mr. W. H. MacVicar) (above) said yesterday.

Mr. MacVicar arrived in Melbourne yesterday on an organising mission for the Brigade.

"Boys like a system that shows order and purpose," he said. "The Brigade teaches them true Christian manliness."

The Brigade had a world membership of 190,000 boys. Companies were formed in all denominations of the Christian Church, except Roman Catholics.

Mr. MacVicar said that his first duty in Australia was to bring greetings to existing branches from the King, who was the Brigade patron.
