

Brigaders invade

NUNAWADING was "invaded" last week by more than 800 boys from all over the Commonwealth.

They were all members of The Boys' Brigade who met for the 7th Pan Australian Camp at the Seventh Day Adventist Property in Central Rd., Blackburn.

The boys aged from 12 to 18 came from all over Australia with some 50 from overseas, including England, the Solomon Islands, Brunei, Malaysia, Sweden and New Zealand.

The Pan-Australian

camp is an historic occasion in the life of The Boys' Brigade, having been held in various states of Australia and New Guinea.

This year it was the responsibility of Victoria to organise the seventh camp.

The Boys' Brigade is the world's pioneer youth organisation and will hold its centenary in 1983 in all of the 70 countries in which it operates.

It was established in 1883 in Glasgow and is the oldest volunteer uniformed youth organisation.

It is a church-oriented organisation and aims at physical and spiritual advancement of boys.

It aims for obedience, reverence, discipline and self respect.

The camp which ran for a week gave boys the opportunity of living under canvas.

It was well conducted under officers and NCO's.

A wide range of activities was arranged which included volleyball, swimming, orienteering, archery, abseiling (mountaineering), chess.

There was also a popular assault course, especially built to improve and test physical skills.

There were also tours to Sovereign Hill, Ballarat, Puffing Billy and Melbourne.

The camp which was described as a huge success, was officially opened by Mr Alan Jarman, Federal Member for Deakin.

Old Lib meets Young

FORMER Prime Minister Sir William MacMahon, attended the recent Box Hill Young Liberal annual meeting.

Sir William, a sprightly 72, said he still plays squash a couple of times a week and gets up for a swim at 6.45 every morning.

More than 60 people, including several local

Liberal MP's, attended the meeting, at which Pam Philpot was elected unopposed as president for 1981.

The Box Hill Young Liberals are involved in a wide range of political, social and sporting activities

For further information contact Pam on 329 0281 or David on 877 3542.

LEGACY
needs your support

IN PROVIDING SERVICE TO WIDOWS OF
EX-SERVICEMEN & THEIR CHILDREN
DONATIONS ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE

CITY OF BOX HILL TENNIS COURTS

Applications for the use of the Council's tennis courts in Irving Avenue, Box Hill for the year 1981 will be received until 12 noon on Wednesday, 21st January, 1981 on the following basis:

1. For the weekly use of the courts by a Club or Group.
2. For the use of the courts on one day per week by a Group.

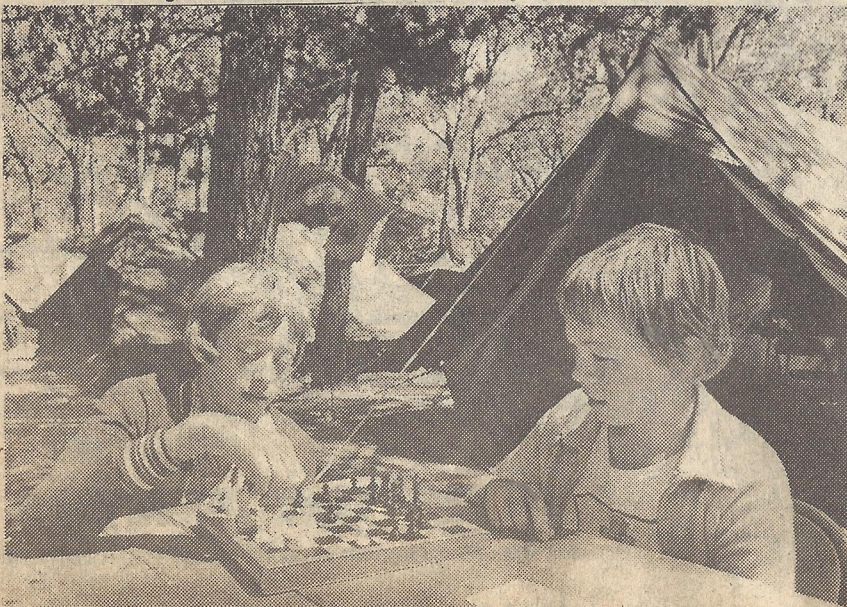

All applications to be lodged on the official application form obtainable from the Town Hall. Rental for the courts will be reviewed prior to allocation.

I. G. PORT,
TOWN CLERK.

● Just like Tarzan ... Robert Clayton swings though the obstacle course.

Pictures: PHILIP ROWLEY

● Stewart Painter and Graeme Jones enjoy a more passive thought provoking activity with a game of chess at the camp.

● Strung out. Gerald McLennan from Western Australia and Stephen Beasley, from Boronia, negotiate the ropes on the obstacle course.