

JEWRY MOURNS

To-morrow, when Jewry all over the world will mourn for the destruction of the second temple and of Jerusalem by the Romans, the Jewish community in Melbourne will also mourn the millions of innocent Jewish lives destroyed by the Nazis in Europe. Under the auspices of the State Zionist Council of Victoria a memorial meeting will be held in the afternoon at the Kadimah Hall, Lygon-street, Carlton.

The Cecil-street Methodist Church, South Melbourne, will celebrate its 91st anniversary to-morrow. Preachers will be Rev. R. E. Hooper (morning) and Rev. Ray Williams (evening). A musical afternoon has also been arranged.

The Federal Attorney-General (Dr. Evatt) will speak at the Wesley Church P.S.A. to-morrow on Australia and International Affairs.

The chairman of the Congregational Union of Victoria (Rev. F. W. Krohn) and the secretary (Rev. W. Albiston) will officially visit Rutherglen this week end.

A reception to Rev. Professor A. E. Albiston, ex-President-General of the Methodist Church of Australasia, will be given at the Cecil-street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening.

A Masonic service will be conducted by the Grand Chaplain (Rev. W. E. Jennings) to-morrow evening at the Orrong-road Methodist Church, Elsternwick. Musical items will be given by a choir of Masonic brethren.

The 90th anniversary of the Brunswick Presbyterian Church will be celebrated with a season of special services and social functions, commencing next Saturday with a congregational reunion, tea and social. On the Sunday special thanksgiving services will be conducted by the Moderator-General (Right Rev. R. Wilson Macaulay) in the morning and Rev. John Alexander in the evening.

A special Youth service, organised by the Boys' Brigade, will be held at the Bannock-road Presbyterian Church, Balwyn, to-morrow evening. Music will be supplied by the boys and men of the Meistersingers Choir, and the preacher will be Rev. J. Marshall Young.
