

Stapleford Mission.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

In common with the anniversaries of other places of worship at this time of the year, the Stapleford Baptist Mission folk held their anniversary last Sunday week at the Temperance Hall. At each of the three services the seating space was filled. Mr. Rickerby officiated during the forenoon, Rev. C. Chienery in the afternoon, and Mr. J. Bird at night. Solos in the morning were contributed by Miss Annie Day and Miss Edie Hillsdon. At the afternoon celebration, Irene Day delighted with her rendition of "Life's Pathway." She is a budding soprano of great possibility. Mabel Lett likewise contributed, as did four boys (Alf. Howe, Bert Cooper, "Bonnie" Rogers and Jack Norgate), who rendered the quartet, "How Many Sheep Are Straying?" Doris Bailey sang "Christ, My Shield." Another quartet at evening, "At Peace With God," was tendered by Misses Hillsdon (soprano), Baker (alto), and Messrs. W. Rogers (tenor) and W. Treharne (basso). This party also sang "The Evening Benediction."

On Wednesday night the anniversary was further continued at the Stapleford Hall, when Miss Norgate presented an excellent programme. Following the customary devotional exercises, the Boys' Brigade sang the action piece, "Soldiers of the Lord." Miss Irene Day repeated her Sabbath success, and was followed by the Girls' Brigade with the piece, "Flowers, Life of Christ." Mr. Iken, a visitor, played the "Holy City" exquisitely on an ivy leaf. Miss Mabel Lett followed with a solo, and a trio by Misses Madge and Minnie Rogers and Grace Rogan was commended. A recitation, "The Silver Plate," brought out Miss Norgate's dramatic talent. A chorus by the Stapleford Choir preceded the dialogue, "Honesty the Best Policy," succeeded by the action piece by the scholars, "The Building of the Cross."

Miss Cooper presided at the organ. Mr. W. M. Rogers, acting secretary, furnished an interesting report, included in which was the mention of the fact that the Home and Foreign Missions had benefited to the extent of £37. There had been 16 converts immersed during the year.

Missioner J. Bird, who acted as chairman, distributed the prizes thus:—
