

Captain Hart mentions compulsory attendance at Sunday School for the members of his company. We have a Brigade Bible-class at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, which it is necessary for the boys to attend, in conjunction with their Friday night parade. The boys attend this very well, and their attendance there has not interfered with their Sunday School attendance.

Should any Victorian minister or boys' club leader like any further information regarding the Brigade, I shall be only too pleased to communicate with them. Yours for the winning of the boys for the Master,

ROY B. FRASER, Captain,
1st Melbourne Company.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I was pleased to see in your issue of January 29 a very interesting article on the Boys' Brigade, written by Capt. Frank M. Hart, of the 2nd Sydney Company. It may be of interest to your Victorian readers, and especially to Victorian ministers, to know that there is a flourishing company of the Boys' Brigade at the Armadale Baptist Church, where the company has been running successfully for the past six and a half years. We have found the movement quite successful in winning the boys into the church and enlisting them in active service for the Master. While we are the only affiliated company in Victoria, there are several other churches which are considering taking up the movement,
