

PRIVATE J. E. WILSON.

News have reached Captain Wilson, of the S.S. Courier, that his son, Private J. E. Wilson, has been wounded in the Dardanelles fight. Before going to the war he was employed as a stevedore.

PRIVATE H. M. BLAIR

(wounded) resided in North road, Newport, and left with the first contingent as a signaller. He is a native of Stirling, Scotland, and was employed for the last three years at the Newport Workshops.

PRIVATE T. POHL.

This soldier before leaving Williamstown wrought on the piers. He is the second son of Mrs Pohl and the late Mr T. Pohl, of Nelson street. He is 23 years of age, and was a member formerly of the Boys' Naval Brigade.

PRIVATE ADAM THOMSON.

This soldier is well known in Williamstown although he enlisted in Queensland, where he had been absent some two years digging at Ravenwood. His mother, a widow, resides in Osborne Street. He is about 25 years of age and is a brother of Mr A. Thomson, of Railway Crescent.

PRIVATE T. POHL.

Prior to leaving for the front Private Pohl, whose name appears in the recent list of wounded, was engaged about the piers.

PRIVATE F. WHITE.

Private F. White intended if he could get the opportunity of "bringing the Kaiser back to Williamstown." Fighting at the Dardanelles, he has been wounded, it is to be hoped but slightly. White was a pupil in his boyhood days at the Central State School. Prior to going to the war he was engaged about the piers.

PRIVATE ELMER GLEW.

Private Elmer Glew met with a painful wound at the Dardanelles. A brief note to his father and mother, Mr and Mrs H. B. Glew, of Rennie street, intimates that he is in hospital at Alexandria suffering from the loss of an eye.

PRIVATE G. B. COATES.

Among the list of wounded is the name of Private G. B. Coates. Curator Crowe states that this soldier worked at the gardens for some nine or ten months, and boarded at Mrs Robert Hansen's, from whose home, including her own two sons, six in all went to the front. Coates is about 25 years of age, and was a member of the 5th Battalion. He is a native of Yorkshire.

PRIVATE G. R. HUGHES.

Private G. R. Hughes (died of wounds) was a member of the 5th Battalion, and died on 28th May. He joined from Williamstown, and was a nephew of Mrs Jones, of Princess street, North Williamstown.

PRIVATE T. W. LEWIS.

This soldier is the only son of Mr W. Lewis, of 29 Elphin street, Newport, and nephew of Messrs F. H. Lewis (trainer) and "Bobby" Lewis (the well known jockey) of Caulfield, is reported wounded in Gallipoli. He is nearly 24 years of age and was born at Clunes and educated at the North Clunes state school. Coming to Newport four years ago with the rest of the family, young Lewis was employed for two years as a porter at the Flinders street station. Two years back he went to Bundaberg, Queensland, and was there engaged in the sugar trade when he enlisted with the 9th Battalion of the Australian Imperial Expeditionary Force.
