

Brothers gain Brigade awards

Brothers, Paul and David Storey from Glen Waverley, came a long way to gain their Queen's Badges in the Boy's Brigade.

The boys joined the brigade in England when they were seven years old, then transferred to the Oakleigh group when their family came to live in Australia.

Paul, 21 and Davis, 20, were presented with their badges by the Governor, Sir Henry Winneke, at Government House at the end of last year.

They were the only brothers to receive this award at the ceremony.

Paul is an apprentice radio and television technician and David is an accounts clerk.

The boys have lived in Glen Waverley for the past 11 years.
